Point of View

You may find yourself asking what exactly is a Lion's Point of View? Simply put it is how we, the students of Liberty High School, view the world around us.

It is our interpretation of our peers, our classes, interests, fears and dreams. We all involve ourselves in similar activities such as sports, music, clothes, and academics; but it is our distinct differences within each of our interests that make a Lions Point of View.

As we wander through the halls of our campus, we can see anything from green tinted hair, to blowing soap bubbles in the quad, to the wonderful smiles of students both in the classroom and involved in different activities. All are part of a Lions Point of View if we are willing to look beyond the facade and into the real parts of our school.

It is our high school years in which we develop our own ideas and modify the ideas passed on to us by our peers. It is time in our life when we develop our Lions Point of View.

Day in the Life

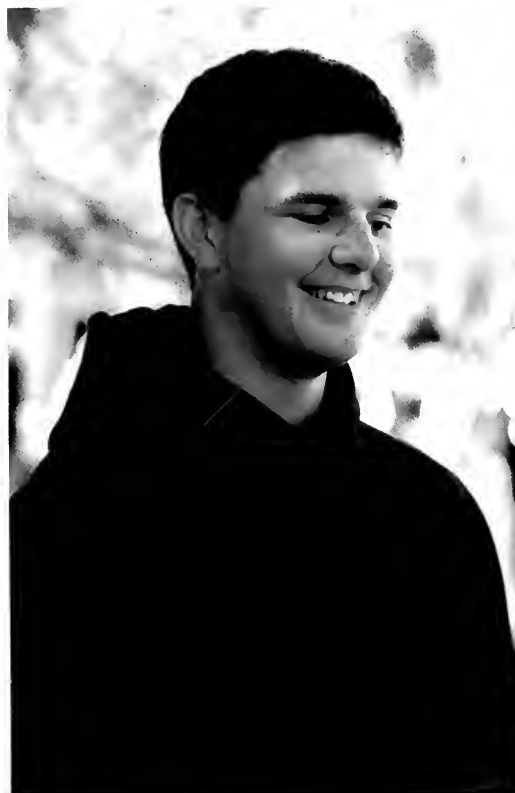

8:15 comes, the bell rings and before you know it another school day has started. It seems that although we spend the majority of the day expanding our minds in the classroom, it's the time spent outside of class that makes the biggest impact on us.

Every day we enter a flood of people, fighting for air as we grab hold of our lockers or nearest friend. As soon as it's clear, we know we can take a deep breath and have a quick gossip fest with our closest friends. Whether we talk about the terrible class we have just escaped or the great plans we have for the weekend, we know we can depend on those people to make "just another day" special. Although these conversations may sound like menial little events, they are the events that make our life.

Homecoming

Each year our Homecoming festivities are different and unique but this year topped them all. With the addition of the Freedom Falcons on our campus, spirit doubled.

The Class of '98 entertained the crowd with their Junior Skit and the Homecoming Court was announced at the Top Ten Rally.

Our spirit was also very visible around campus the entire Homecoming Week. Many activities during lunch time and dress up days added to the excitement. The dress up days were Crazy Day, Hippie Day, Hawaiian Day, Sports Day and School Spirit Day.

For four nights, each class spent hour after hour designing and completing their floats and themes. The anticipation was in the air as each class waited to see who had won the float competition, for the fourth consecutive time the Class of '97 had triumphed.

Game Day!

Homecoming Day! The big game! These two events are possibly the most anticipated ones of the entire school year. Nothing quite compares to the excitement and fun that the Homecoming Day and Game brings.

From setting up the parade to finding a good seat in the stands, spirit is everywhere. The entire community comes together to make Homecoming night a night filled with joy and anticipation as we await the big game. People noisily rush to the snack bar. Rally Squad busily practices their routine (again), the football team receives their pep talk, and the fans try to keep warm.

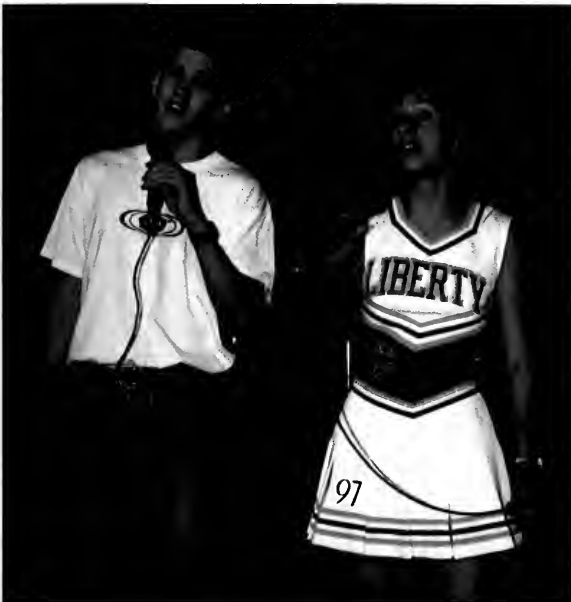

With the first half over, the activities of halftime are here. The traditions are carried on as the marching band plays and the Homecoming Court is announced. Charley Enos and Jill Bacciocco were crowned king and queen while the Homecoming Court joined them on the field: Manuel Andujar, Joel Jenks, James Guise, Nick Woodworth, Andrew Ehler, Bryce Campbell, Aaron Dockter, Anthony Ghilarducci, Jon Cruz, Kim Blair, Averi Doolittle, Sarah Root, Theresa Schmittker, Nicole Eaton, Erin Goodman, Danya Lilley, and Jana Berg. The Varsity defeated the Northgate Bronco to cap an eventful, fun-filled Homecoming Day.

Lasting Friendships

When you find yourself reminiscing about your high school days at Liberty, it is the friendships you made that will make your memories complete.

Friends are the people who have been with us from our first step onto campus as freshmen, and who will be with us as we make our final exit as seniors. These are the people who can make us smile on the gloomiest of days, the people who will keep our deepest secrets, and the people who will laugh at our jokes when nobody else will. Although our high school days are only a fraction of our lives, the friendships we've made will last eternally.

Memories

Memories are the moments in our lives which have special meaning to us. Most memories are joyous, embarrassing or sorrowful. During our high school years, some of our fondest memories are made.

Everyone has their own special memories. Some remember the NCS playoff game or the National Cheerleading competition. Others remember late night practices for band or for sports. Some of the most special memories are of friends and the great times we shared with them. Our memories are all unique and will truly last a lifetime.

Students in the Classroom

As obvious as it may be to all of us, we all tend to forget the real reasons why we are at school seven plus hours every day and that's to get an education.

The learning facilities on campus are superior to many of the surrounding schools and we are all eager to take advantage of them.

The classes offered allow students to further their personal interests as well as turn their ideas into realities.

From the performing arts classes in the PAC to technologically challenging classes in the Tech 2000 Lab to advanced placement courses available in a myriad of subjects, there are numerous opportunities to develop your own sense as a Liberty student.

With more academies coming on line, the challenge of new classes continued to grow and allow students to explore career paths with the new internships programs available especially in the Health Careers Academy.

Expressions

Whether we are walking through the halls laughing with our friends or sitting in class groaning over a thematic analysis we have to write for English class, our faces always show what we are feeling. Huge smiles that let our pearly whites shine let our friends know the great mood we are experiencing. Sad eyes, and perhaps even tears, let our friends and teachers alike know we need a little time out.

Without realizing it, we, as Liberty students, let our expressions tell all. There are looks of joy on the fan's faces as the Liberty football team makes an amazing sweep at a football game. As a huge homework assignment is given in any class, we witness looks of anger, dismay, and perhaps even fear. When we race through the halls we can see more expressions than we can ever attempt to represent on this page.

Expressions are formed from what people think of different things. It's all part of A Lion's Point of View. We, as dramatic Liberty students, will continue letting our feelings shine through, whether it be with a frown, or a one of a kind, 100% Lion smile!

Dances Delight Students

Starting with the first one in August to the final one at the end of May, dances are always being planned, occurring, or being cleaned up.

Dances are huge events on campus that range from the casual after-game get togethers to the semi-formal spectaculars like the Hop, Prom, and Ball.

Each dance revolves around its original, sometimes eccentric theme. From throwing your best friend into the hay at the FFA Barn Dance to dressing in your finest for the the Winter Ball, there is always the excitement of finding a date and turning the evening into a night to remember always.

Class of 1997... The Senior Class

These past four years we've seen the world through the eyes of a Lion. We began our freshman year excited but maybe a little scared to be Liberty Lions. The class of 637 students elected Theresa Schmittker, president; Jill Bacciocco, vice-president; Joann Wells, secretary; and Charley Enos, treasurer. With the help of their advisors, Mr. John Barneson and Mrs. Debbie Strance, the Frosh Class worked hard on our first float entitled "Drive the Mustangs". The float pictured a Mustang car with two Lions sitting in the passenger seat. The Mustang was driving through the score board that showed the Lions beating the Mustangs 97-19 making the score board say 1997. The float gave the Class of 1997 a first place finish in our first Homecoming Parade; and our first t-shirt read "Angels from Heaven, Class of '97" (hey, we were just freshman!).

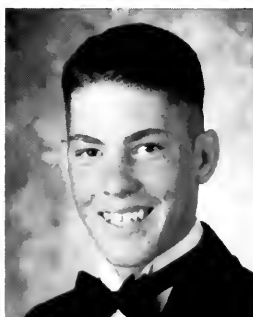

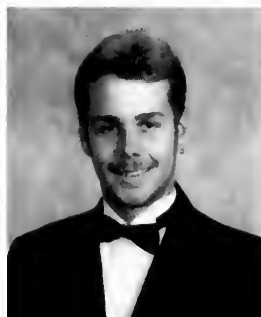

We were extremely happy to take our next step to glory...we were finally sophomores. Chosen to represent us were Michelle Terra, president; Kevin Claudeanos, vice-president; Katie Monk, treasurer; and Krisi Brown, secretary. Mrs. Debbie Strance and Mrs. Joy Crum helped us to win first place again with our float entitled, "Bow down to our Lion King." It had a Lion King sitting on a throne, with two warriors on their knees bowing down to him. We were looking forward to becoming juniors.

Tried and true, our spirit shined through as the Class of 1997 once again clawed our way to victory for the third straight year in the annual Homecoming Parade competition. Our float theme, "Lions spear-it" displayed our creativity with the hero mascot in a football jersey spearing the rival warrior with cheerleaders urging him on to victory. The class elected Nick Woodworth, president; Jill Bacciocco, vice-president; Charley Enos, treasurer; and Mehrissa Yalung, secretary. Along with their superb advisors, Mrs. Debbie Strance and Mrs. Joy Crum, as juniors we were represented and provided with a most eventful year. One of the featured events of the year was the traditional skit during the Homecoming Rally. It had something for everyone to enjoy. The class sponsored dance, Disco Daze, allowed the juniors and other classes to sport their polyester suits and platform shoes as students displayed their disco fever. To make everything even more memorable, John Travolta was available for pictures. The years t-shirt represented the class as well proclaiming the leaders of the pack a statement both told and true. No doubt a well suited t-shirt. The final event of the year was the traditional Junior Prom held May 3rd at the Savoy Country Club in Walnut Creek. The prom's theme was "Hold on to the Night" which suited that night because we will definately hold on to it's the memory. As juniors we had worked especially hard that year to raise money for the Prom by sponsoring dances, having pizza nights, and selling candy. When the Class of '96 graduated on June 7 we officially became the ultimate. We were finally seniors.

August came with the beginning of the end; our glory days at Liberty were numbered. Spirits were high at Homecoming and once again the Class of '97 triumphed when it came time to have the floats judged. We left our mark with "Lasting Impressions" (ending the legacy) which was our fourth consecutive first place float. It was a mighty Lion with a brand, and when it stuck the Broncos rump steam poured out of its mouth while it reared. Leading us in our last year at LHS was Nick Woodworth, president; Katie Monk, vice-president; Mehrissa Yalung, secretary; and Mike Huffaker, treasurer. We continued last year's t-shirt with "Jealousy is an evil thing but power is a wonderful thing". Now we would end the year with "Sweet Dreams" at Senior Ball '97 at the Gift Center in San Francisco and finally graduation on Ohmstede Field, June 6.

It's been an amazing four years and life will go on at Liberty after we're gone, but it will never be the same.

Sweet Dreams Sets Theme for Senior Ball

On May 24, the Class of 1997 could be found dressed to the nines and heading to the impressive Gift Center in the heart of San Francisco for the annual Senior Ball.

Beginning at 8, seniors and their dates started to arrive at the Center in limos and other fancy vehicles. As they walked in they were handed their choice of a peach or strawberry smoothie and their eyes filled with awe as they approached the great ballroom floor and saw the five balcony levels.

A delicious buffet dinner consisting of marinated chicken, roast beef, and pasta in either red or white sauces were the main dishes being served. There was a scrumptious caesar salad, green vegetables, potatoes, and rolls as well. The intricate layout of food could be found on the main floor as well as the first through third level balconies. To create the perfect end to the gastronomic meal, enormous dessert tables were laid out on nearly every balcony level and consisted of everything from good old-fashioned chocolate chip cookies to chocolate tortes and pudding.

The dance floor was laid perfectly centered within the balcony tiers. The music was supplied by a group of young DJs who played a little bit of everything. The ballroom floor was huge giving the Class of '97 a comfortable place to dance the evening away. Sweet Dreams set the perfect mood for the Senior Ball.

Above Trisha Bundy catches the eyes of other seniors as she strikes a pose in a sparkily silver dress in the center of the dance floor; below, Enjoying the delicious buffet meal, Sheryl Stein, Justin Robles, Steve Adams and his date talk about their plans for later in the evening.

Class of '97 Celebrates 'Lions' Point of View'

June 6, 1997, marked the end of four years of high school smiles and tears for the Class of '97. The graduation ceremonies, held on the traditional site, Ohmstede Field, began precisely at 6 p.m. when the 500 graduates could be seen marching down the track to the sounds of "Pomp and Circumstance".

The ceremonies were ignited with Mr. Gene Clare's traditional "you can call me Gene" speech, followed by Michelle Kelley, the student speaker. Valedictorians, Amy Sundstrom, Anna Fox, and Theresa Schnittker, spoke about how the graduating class would succeed in the "real world" because of the Lion's Point of View instilled in them as Liberty students. Salutatorians, Janet McKasson, Michelle Brown, and Jana Berg, also left the class with inspirational words. Class president, Nick Woodworth, presented the class gifts of a rose garden, $500 towards the traditional Grad Nite, and an automated coin counter for the student store. Jenny Lind Award winner, Michelle Brown, sang a beautiful solo that was dedicated to the graduating class.

Climaxing the ceremony was the presentation of the Class of '97 to Board President, Ray Valverde; each student then received their moment of glory as their name was called out over the loud speaker while family and friends had an opportunity to react.

Theresa Schnittker, student body president, ended the ceremony with some closing remarks. Finally, she spoke the words "please join me in the turning of the tassel to the left"; and with that simple phrase, the Class of '97 knew they were no longer students of Liberty High School but Liberty Alumni who will forever live and spread a Lion's Point of View.

Juniors

From a Lion's Point of View, the '96-'97 school year has been a great one for the class of '98. They successfully survived their third year at Liberty with the help of their advisors Norma Equinoa and LaBelle Foster. The juniors elected as their class officers- Paris Leonard, president; Alison Bifano, vice president; Deana Andronico, treasurer; and Pico Martinez, secretary.

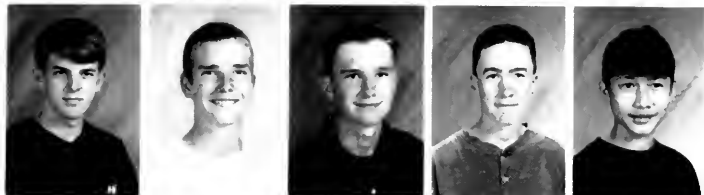

Homecoming week was a blast for the 500 plus students of the Junior Class. They worked hard to construct the float "Bury the Broncos," which showed a Junior Lion with a shovel in his hand, burying a Bronco, with a tombstone that read, "R.I.P. Broncos, September 20, 1996." It won second place in the parade float competition. The class also put on a skit showing the past four decades in review during the Homecoming Rally.

Being the largest class at Liberty this year, and for a few years to come, the Class of '98 was able to raise money using candy sales, after game dances, and T-shirt sales, to lower the cost of the Junior Prom. The Prom was held at the Walnut Creek Hilton across from the Willows shopping center.

With one more year left at Liberty, the class of '98 is preparing to take their position as leaders of the pride. They will assume their responsibility that comes with being role models for all underclassmen. The class of '98 looks ahead to the future, as they enter their Senior year.

"Celebrate Good Times!" Sets Theme for Junior Prom

On May 10, eager Juniors and their dates began arriving at the Concord Hilton ready, willing, and able to groove the night away. KMEL D.J.'s created the mood of the evening with a variety of music. Colorful gowns lit up the dance floor, and were nicely complimented by black and white tuxedos. People could also munch on delicious hors d'oeuvres or get a breath of fresh air in a romantic courtyard just outside the dance area. Unfortunately their time to "Celebrate Good Times!" was disrupted by an annoying fire alarm that had been pulled. After thirty minutes of hanging out with the firetrucks, party-goers were finally let back in to finish their celebration.

The Class of '99 moved through high school with a more spirited and mature point of view. Under their advisors Sue Colvard and Kandi Elliot, they elected Stephanie Ghilarducci, president; Brooke Derenzi, vice-president; Andrea Jacobsen, secretary and Ginny Weirick, treasurer for their class officers.

As Homecoming Week approached the sophomores prepared their float for the annual parade with the theme "Rock the Broncos."

As the year moved on, the Class of '99's fundraisers were very successful, from candy sales to chili cook-offs. All the money made was to go towards providing the class with a nice Sophomore Hop.

As the year came to an end the Sophomore Class looked forward to their future years at Liberty High School.

The Class of 2000 is not only the turning point of the decade, it is the beginning of a new millennium. With this, they bring a new perspective of the world. Because the campus is being shared with the students of Freedom High School, the Freshman Class is the smallest it has been in years having only 447 students.

The Class of 2000 was led by Joe Ghiggeri, president; Margaret Cruz, vice president; Jessica Allen, treasurer; and Melinda Brown, secretary. The class advisors, Mr. Chris Calabrese and Mrs. Rose Borunda, were a big help in the classes first Homecoming float. The float's theme was "These Lions Can't Be Bucked." It had a Liberty Lion riding a bucking bronco. At Homecoming, the Freshmen realized what it takes to be a Liberty Lion. They pulled together and worked as a team, and their efforts were well accounted for.

With the help of the excellent advisors, the Freshmen class t-shirt well represented the class by stating, "Where no class has gone before, and for sure you can expect more." It was a terrific way to express the classes' true spirit. Together as a class, they have made the best out of their first year at Liberty.

Marching Band Faces Tough Competition In AA Category

Director Bob Smith decided to take a different approach with this year's Marching Band. With Emily Leszinske as Drum Major, the band was moved up to the AA category to face more competition. The band was able to capture only one second place finish all season.

At the end of the marching season, both the Color Guard and the Percussion did not stop competing. The Winter Guard received a first place plaque at their first competition and the Winter Percussion was awarded a second place trophy.

This year Jazz Band went on their first tour to Disneyland. They stopped at several schools on the way and finished with a performance in Disneyland's Carnation Center.

Rounding out the year were the annual performances of the Fall, Christmas and Spring concerts.

Aside From Mayhem, We Made A Yearbook

As we all entered into a new school year and became lost in the adventures of Liberty, I simultaneously became engulfed within the walls of N-22, where I began my term as editor-in-chief. Though I thought myself prepared, I really had no clue to what I was getting into. Although it was the beginning of my third year on staff, I realized I was lost. We began the year with choosing a new publishing company, Herff Jones, which introduced us to a new computer program and other publishing ideas once foreign to my fellow yearbookies and myself. With the help of the world's greatest advisor, Mr. Bill Batze, we eventually overcame these obstacles. In creating a Lion's Point of View, we wanted to portray as many aspects of our school to help everyone remember the '96-'97 school year from their perspective. In carrying this theme throughout the book we created a bold black line that jumps around, each jump creating a different view. Following the pattern set last year, once again within the Senior section we gave seniors a chance to leave their last words of high school beneath their accomplishments. By rearranging the mugs in the classes section, we were able to fit more mugs on each page, thus conserving more room for the ever so popular candid. The style and theme of our book has given us the freedom to show the diversity of the people on campus and the views we all hold. My experience as editor has given me a new respect for the book as well as an understanding to the ideas that create our school. When I look at the final product I can feel a sense of accomplishment and pride in knowing the book created was one nothing like our predecessors, and the message we left will forever be left inside a Lion's Point of View '97.

Six-Bits Barbershop Adds to Vocal Program

With the addition of Barbershop, the vocal groups grew to a total of six. Meeting every Tuesday and Thursday at lunch time to rehearse, an outgrowth of this group was a formation of a quartet called JAG (just add girls).

The talented group, JAG, consisted of Carl Pantle, Kyle Roberts, Nephi Speer and Jeff Willson. Not to be outdone, four young ladies also formed a quartet that they called Singcapation; the members were Debbie Baskin, Michelle Brown, Tina-Maria Garcia and Heather Speer.

For the fifth year in a row the choir hosted the annual CMEA Festival in our own PAC. Earning a Unanimous Superior were both Chamber Singers and A Cappella Choir while Women's Emsemble and Women's Chorus received a Superior and Men's Chorus an Excellent.

With a variety of choices in clubs, students were treated to a Club Rush in August to acquaint them with the different organizations.

Some clubs like Future Farmers of America and California Scholarship Federation had strict membership requirements, however, all students were encouraged to be a part of others like Friday Night Live, Liberty for Earth, and Power of Unity.

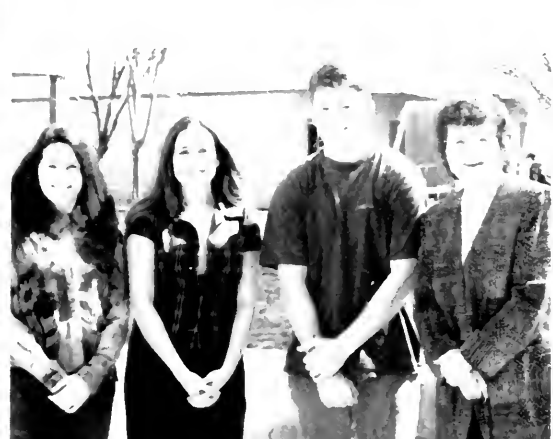

Because of the single lunch, most clubs met during that time and the morning announcement were peppered with times and places to convene.

From sponsoring live assemblies on the dangers of alcohol by Friday Night Live to a week celebrating our cultural differences by Power of Unity, the different organization tried to educate and entertain students.

Student Achievement Highlights FFA Year

Student achievement highlights the best year ever for FFA in '96-'97 school year. This year there were four State Farm Degree recipients, the largest number Mr. Don Lopez can remember. Receiving awards at the sectional level for public speaking was Mandy Foreman, first place; and Heidi Ortman, second place. Winnings for Creed speaking at sectional level were, Jamie Lanter, first place; and Shawna Kurz, second place. Mandy Foreman was also the president of North Coast region.

FFA members were very busy this year. Not only were they competing in speech contests and caring for their livestock, they also took part in many leadership activities. They had candy sales and car washes to raise money. They catered activities such as weddings, and even visited children at grammar schools. FFA students were successfully led through this year by their advisor, Mr. Lopez; and Andy Prochaska, president. FFA members were definitely busy this year.

Joel Roster Takes Center Stage

There was a dramatic change in the production of this year's fall play at Liberty as Cyrano DeBergerac was put on by Liberty Playmakers and Freedom Centerstage. This was the first play put on by both schools. The director of this play was Kevin Kline a former Liberty teacher now teaching English at Freedom High School. After many stressful nights of nonstop rehearsal and creation of a family of the cast and crew, they were all ready for opening night.

Joel Roster takes the spotlight as he played Cyrano while his beloved Roxanne was played by Karey Bernhardt. While Cyrano was in love with Roxanne, she was in love with Christian, played by Zack Hamra. When both went off to war, Roxanne received letters and poems from Christian (she thought) that had actually been written by Cyrano. After Christian was killed and Cyrano returned, the true author of the letters was revealed in a scene that ends the play.

A Grand Night For Singing

This Spring, things were different for the Musical. Mrs. Helen Dixon, Playmakers, and Center Stage brought Rodger and Hammerstiens,"A Grand Night for Singing" review, to life.

Debbie Baskin, Heather Sawyer, Tina Garcia, Carl Pantle, and Nephi Speer sang (their lives) out to the audience, while Heidi Hartman and Zach Hamra danced and laughed their way out of trouble.

Chris Last showed his true love and Kris Blount showed a side of him no-one had ever seen. He was supposed to be Pico Martinez's "Honey Bun", but he wasn't quite a "Honey Bun" he was more of a "Honey Boy."

The cast was presented well, with outstanding clothing, a great band, and coffee-shop tables surrounding the performers.

ASB Sponsors Activities to Raise Money

Leadership started the year off early by helping out with the annual Brentwood Cornfest in July. The Leadership group, along with the Curriculum Commissioners, also put together the Liberty walk-thru and helped with parents and students just before the start of school.

One of their first fall activities was the Club Rush and barbeque during an extended lunch period. Leadership was also in charge of putting on the Homecoming Spirit Week, Parade, Rally, and pre-game activities.

Leadership continued to keep up school spirit throughout the winter by hosting the annual Blood Drive, sponsoring the Holiday Dance, and participating in the Adopt-a-Family program. They also raised money for Leukemia patients through the Pennies-for-Patients program, held Liberty's first ever leadership conference, and continued the annual GQ contest, which was held in the spring.

Mr.GQ'97

The time came once again this year for our Liberty men to strut their stuff and compete for Mr.GQ'97. Liberty's fifth annual GQ contest was held in the Performing Arts Center on April 12.

This contest was originally organized to benefit our SERF (Student Emergency Relief Fund) however this year, some proceeds benefitted the Kevin Carpenter memorial scholarship fund.

The 13 lucky contestants were Gabe Barajas, Mike Chavarria, Andrew Ehler, Charley Enos, Jamar Hopkins, Fred Kelley, Pico Martinez, Steve Mesquite, Josh Staley, Nick Steger, David Warren, Jeff Willson, and Nick Woodworth.

These young men gave their all in the competition areas of formal wear, swimsuits, interview, and talent. The contestants also performed a choreographed dance routine for the finale. The night came to a conclusion with the announcement of the winner. Not only did superman save the day, but he stole the show, as Charley Enos was crowned Mr.GQ'97.

Sophs Crown Black, Derenzi at Hop

With a great DJ from No Joke Productions, many different kinds of music delighted the Sophomores and their dates at the annual Soph Hop in April.

Highlighting the evening was the crowning of the prince and princess, Brian Black and Brooke Derenzi.

Both the class officers and advisors made sure that there were plenty of delicious refreshments and desserts.

Using a theme of "Faithfully", the sophomores and their parents spent part of Friday and Saturday turning the cafeteria into a wonderland of balloons while a water fountain made of lights lit up the dance floor.

The evening of April 26 was perfect for a dance.

Bigger and better than ever would be the way to describe this year's Renaissance Faire. The Faire was moved from its location near the PAC to the grassy area next to the AC Wing which was then renamed "Nottingham Green".

The VAPA Academy members, individuals from the Living History Center, and community people helped with the Faire.

Activities for this year's Faire included folk dancing, wreath making, hair braiding, paper making, and fortune telling. There were also Renaissance art displays, staged combat performances, and a brass choir. Special treats were sold at Her Majesty's Olde Sweet Shoppe. For this one day, many Liberty students and staff members reverted to the 16th century as they dressed and acted like the gentry of the Renaissance Era. This fourth annual Faire was a lot of fun for the participants and their guests and was deemed highly successful.

Students and teachers had spent many class periods in English, Theatre, and World History preparing projects and displays for the Faire.

Lady Lions Come Together as a Team

Working with only 8 players as a team is not a very easy thing to do, but the Ladies Varsity Volleyball Team pulled it off with spirit and camaraderie. The season came together after some players left the team due to personal reasons.

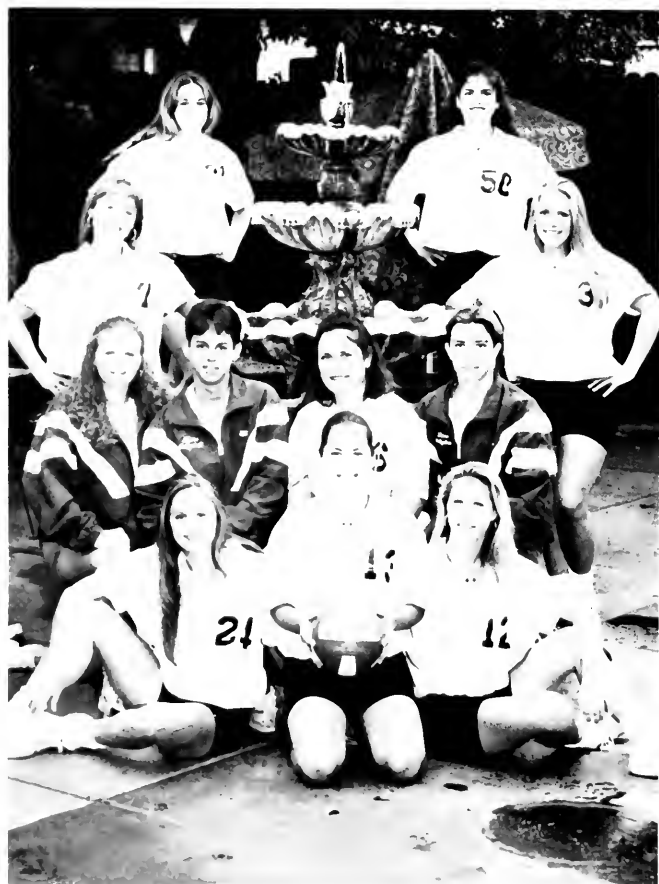

The Lions (24-15) went into the North Coast Sectionals feeling good. They played well during the second half of the BVAL season and team chemistry happened, making it easier for players and coaches to feel like a family.

After the midseason crisis was finished, the team turned it into one of their most successful seasons in years. The team played especially well during tournaments with four-year starter Michelle Kelley and Junior Rachel McLean helping team spirit stay up as co-captains.

Coach Linda Ghillarducci said, "Sometimes you can get too bogged down with different situations and you're not ready to play. This team just wanted to play volleyball. They hung tough and built up a lot of character. I'm proud of what they've done."

Varsity Lions Make NCS Playoffs

The 1996-1997 Varsity Football season had a new outlook this season. They worked on new ideas and had bigger plays on defense. There were more interceptions, recovered fumbles and defensive scores than they had in the past three years.

Other coaches were quoted as saying things like, "Liberty is a team that doesn't give up. They'll keep coming at you."

The "Wing-T" has been Coach Nick Frost's base scheme and the team invested a lot of time in the off-season by going to a "Wing-T" camp this summer. The team also changed a lot of patterns and worked on blitz protection, reverses, and gadget plays.

Liberty ended with more rushing yards in the BVAL than any other team except DeLeSalle. Charley Enos placed second in the league with 1,178 yards in 10 games.

In the end, the hard work paid off as Liberty made the North Coast Sectionals for the first time since 1975 when NCS was created. Coach Frost summed it up when he said, "It's something you look forward to. It's a big deal for our kids, the school, and the community."

Biglow, Cordeiro First Team All League

Preparing to return a serve with her forehand is Alicia Silva as she works hard to defeat her opponent.

This year's Liberty Tennis Team had a year of improvement with their new league make up, which included "powerhouse" schools like Northgate, College Park, and Carondelet. They won 5 of their matches, sweeping both Pittsburg and Deer Valley. They even beat their close rivals, the Antioch Panthers. The team was lead by captain Justina Morrone who with Amber Carlson and the team of Amanda Biglow and Debbie Cordeiro made it to the second round of the league tournament. This year's Co-MVPs were Amanda and Debbie, who were also named first team All League. Amber received the Coach's Award, who with Justina Morrone was named Honorable Mention All League. Becky Walther received the Most Improved Award. This years team was assisted by returning coach Mr. Mike Ybarra.

Concentrating on her form, Elise Meyer sets up to serve to her opponent.

Henthorn Qualifies For State Meet

Liberty's Cross Country team had many dramatic improvements in the ability of the returning and new runners this year. This year's squad consisted of a very strong Boys Varsity team which included the solid top four runner line-up of Alex Morales, Jason Jones, Chris Fletcher and Jason Fletcher, and for the first time in several years a complete Girls' Varsity Team. The Boys Frosh-Soph Team took fourth place out of 28 teams at the EDSIAS Invitational.

Competing against some of the toughest and most talented teams in the North Coast, Liberty's record was 3-4. Lindsey Henthorn placed first in most of the races she ran in, including the San Joaquin Invitational. Some of the members of the team received many honors this year which included, Alex Morales second team All League, Lindsey Henthorn first team All League, Division I fourth place, NCS, and qualified for the state meet; and the team as a whole took fifth place in their new league make up. This year's team was lead by returning coaches John Dodson and John Renteria. Coach Dodson said that "this year's team was fast, but not fast enough to keep up with the new league members and is looking forward to a good season next year".

Attempting to pass her opponent from Clayton Valley on the outside by picking up her speed is Lindsey Henthorn.

Jeremy Moore displays his strength and endurance as he keeps up with the pace of his opponents from Northgate and Clayton Valley during an away meet.

Focusing on what lies ahead is Chris Fletcher who is working hard to increase his speed in an attempt to pass his opponent to take the lead.

Varsity Girls End Season on Winning Note

Improving in both league and practice games, the Lady Lions captured the championship trophy at the Stonebarger Tournament, and a third place finish in the Antioch Invitational.

Headed by captains Niccki Fletcher, Lise Smith, and Stacie Ghiggeri, the ladies ended the season with a victory and achieved most of their goals.

All-Tournament Awards were garnered by Genelle Kunst (Elk Grove), Niccki Fletcher (Stonebarger and Antioch), and Shannon Wiser (Stonebarger); Genelle also earned Honorable Mention All-League.

“Our league (BVAL) was definitely more talented and every night we had to play well to win (5 games)”, remarked Coach Sue Radford.

Varsity Captures Second in Stonebarger Tourney

Led by Andrew Ehler and Tony Mikla, Coaches Award winners and BVAL Honorable Mention Nick Steger, the Varsity Boys Basketball Team captured second place in the annual Stonebarger Tourney in December.

Coach John Radford was so impressed with the team effort this season that he awarded the entire group the MVP trophy while the Captains Award was shared by Nick Steger, Nick Kellner, Charlie Enos, Kelvin Smith, Tony Mikla, and Andrew Ehler.

All Tournament Honors went to Kelvin Smith, Antioch and Stonebarger Tourneys; and Andrew Ehler, Stonebarger Tournament.

With an expanded BVAL this season, the Varsity found even stiffer competition than in past years and were unable gain a single league victory. They were never out of any game and often lead their opponents; sometimes by a significant margin.

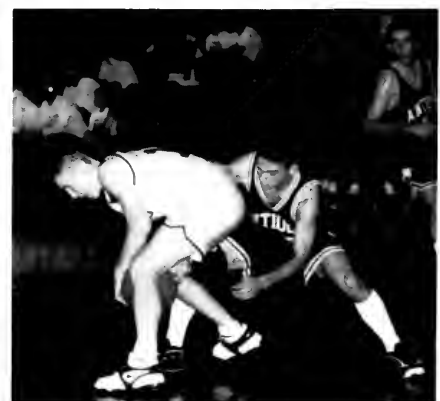

The team finished with a 2-23 season record and a 0-16 BVAL mark.

Varsity Girls Open Season with a Victory

Determination and motivation gave this year's Varsity Girls Soccer team the drive to work hard and play their best. They began with what many thought would be a great season with a 1-0 win against Northgate. Although they lost their next 6 games, their final record was 4-9-1 which included a tie against the Antioch Panthers and a 6-0 win over Pinole Valley.

Their returning coach Tony Martin named Rebeckah Faulkner, MVP and Most Inspirational while Lindsey Henthorn and Brooke Derenzi were named Most Improved. Rebeckah Faulkner was also awarded with First Team All-League. Other team members receiving league honors were Tara Rodriguez, second team; and Jana Berg and Stephanie Jzyk, honorable mention.

Varsity Wrestlers Capture North Coast Title

Climaxing an undefeated dual meet season with a championship at the league meet, the Varsity wrestling team then clawed their way to a first place finish at NCS beating out James Logan of Union City for the first time since 1991.

Six Liberty wrestlers earned slots at the state meet-Jason Barnes, Andy Luna, Martin Valles, Josh Storrer, Mike Nielsen, and Bill Beltram with Valles capturing third in the state and Luna seventh.

The season started off well with first place finishes in both the Lou Bronzan and College Park Tournaments and a second at Lemoore and a third at the Clovis Invitational. The BVAL championship was the fourth in a row; the team finished 25th at the state meet.

Barnes, Luna, Storrer, and Valles all won NCS individual championships while Nielsen and Mark Johnson captured league crowns.

Overall the team was 14-1 and 7-0 in league competition running up their league dual meet record to 25 straight victories. Coach Greg Chappel remarked, "I believe this is the best team from top to bottom ever at Liberty High School".

Though the league was not as strong overall as teams, individual competition from the new teams made the league more competitive. Added to the competition were girls competing at the Varsity level.

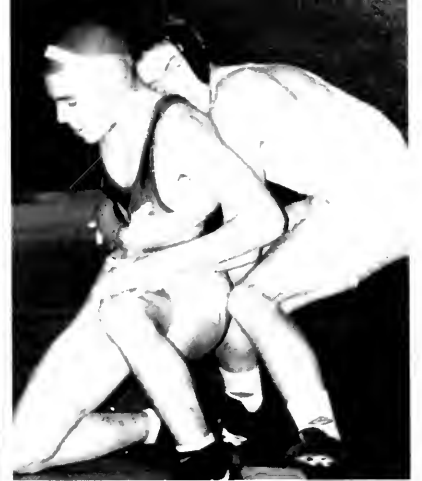

Part way through the season the Varsity team put on a new look as they received new uniforms that contained the traditional school colors and added a distinctive white stripe down both sides.

Above right : Dustin Sudweeks scrambles to pin the wrestler to the mat. The Varsity Lions were successful in both tournaments and league matches. Their own tournament, The Bronzan Invitational, is becoming one of the premier tournaments in Northern California. In league matches the Lions roared to victory after victory and again were undefeated. Competition with individuals was harder this year with the addition of more schools meaning a larger pool of wrestlers, yet the team, under Greg Chappel's coaching emerged as winners.

New Coach Leads Players to NCS

Highlights of the Boys Tennis season included many exciting matches. They had a dramatic third set tie breaker win over the College Park team by Andy Zepeda and Erick Contreras. They also had a hard fought victory by Kevin Furgeson to seal a victory over the Pittsburg team.

The school was represented at the BVAL Tennis tournament by: Victor Quilicic, Chris Foster, Eddie Riley, Kevin Furgeson, Ryan Smart, and Peter Panagopoulos.

Although the team had more losses than wins, 4-14, the single players led by Victor Quilicic, Chris Foster, and Eddie Riley played many good games. The first double team of Ryan Smart and Peter Panagopoulos led the double players. The new coach, Ned Paulionis, is very optimistic about the future of the Liberty Tennis Team.

After struggling a little to a second-place finish in the BVAL behind Pinole Valley, the Varsity girls roared back to win four straight at the NCS Championships to capture the NCS Crown.

The girls were lead by their young pitcher, Jennifer Lewis, who surprised a lot of fans and competitors with her toughness. Coached by Rich Barrios, the girls capped the season with a final victory over Pinole Valley to win the NCS Championship; the girls celebrated by giving B a buzz cut.

Other highlights of the season were a dramatic 1-0 victory over arch-rival Antioch as the girls struggled through 6 1/2 scoreless innings before squeezing across a run in their last at bats; and the girls beating Pinole Valley late in the season to go into a tie for first place.

Seeded number 4 in the NCS playoffs, the Lions played tough defense and often watched as other teams self-destructed, especially in their first two victories.

To cap the season the young ladies and their coaches were honored at an LUHS Board of Trustees meeting in June.

New Coach Guides Team to Victory over Antioch

To start the season first year coach, Jaime Melgoza, had three goals for the Varsity boys; qualify for the NCS playoffs, beat Antioch, and do well in the BVAL.

The Lions finished with a 9-4 record in the BVAL and a fourth place finish that did not allow them to qualify for the NCS playoffs; and they beat the Antioch Panthers 10-3 to notch their first victory over them in four years. Matt Riley, an outstanding left-handed pitcher was glad to grab that victory to break up the Antioch domination of the Lions.

Defensively the Varsity was ably lead by the play of Pete Anderson, Steve Mello, Brian Lamb, and Charley Enos.

Coach Melgoza remarked, "I love being out there on the baseball field and coaching the players. Every player is different and it's a challenge dealing with their personalities, but I enjoy this kind of challenge."

Track Team Finds Success With Dual Meets

This year's track season was dedicated to the memory of Coach Alfred Nunes who passed away at the beginning of the season.

Led by returning Coach John Ambrose the Varsity Boys' and Girls' teams had strong, solid teams with the boys finishing in fourth place at the BVAL meet at Pittsburg and the girls placing fifth. While competing in one of the toughest leagues in this area the boys and girls teams held their ground beating such teams as Antioch, Pittsburg, and Ygnacio Valley during dual meets.

The team enjoyed an even larger squad than last year which gave way for a competitive and winning season. Individual success was the highlight of this season with two school record in the Girls Distance Medley and the girls 1600m and many members that advanced to compete at the NCS TriValley meet. Individual athletes who did well included Dustin Graves 100m and long jump; Chad Frazier triple jump; Stephanie Ksenzulak 800m and 1600m; Stephanie Jzyk 100H; James Jack 400m; Brice Campbell 400m; Dan Fonara 400m; Kathleen Hampton pole vault; Bryce Campbell, Dan Fonara, James Jack, and Alex Morales 1600 relay; Stephanie Jzyk, Annie Jack, Brooke Derenzi, Stephanie Ksenzulak 1600 relay.

Varsity Golfers Win First Championship Ever

After a one stroke loss to the DeLaSalle in an away meet, the Varsity roared back to swamp the Spartans in a windy, home match to capture their first ever league championship with a 16-1 record. Because of the league crown, the entire starting five golfers qualified for the NCS meet as a team.

Lead by Nate Nelson and Nate Marshall, the Lions consistently scored below or near the 200 mark as a team (low score for the five golfers added together)

The Varsity golfers started out the season with a resounding victory over the Pittsburg Pirates and continued to dominate the league with fine individual efforts. Though plagued often by almost gale-force winds, the Lions showed they were the class of the BVAL.

Alex Aiello lead the Varsity while John Radford coached the jv squad.

Swimmers Crush Pitt to End Regular Season

The year's swim team consisted of 50 people, which is more than last year. The Boys Varsity were able to be more competitive due to the increase. The team captains were Jamie Milburn, Holly Pederson, Austin Douglas, Jeremy Wendler, and Nathan Baxley.

Both Jamie and Jeremy qualified for NCS, as did Nicole Garcia, Lauren Zamora, and Kiley Renke.

Winning the majority of their meets was the girls' JV team, there was no boys' JV, as all the guys were swimming Varsity.

The Water Lions left Pittsburgh in their wake at the last dual meet of the season. Both the Varsity and JV teams had scores that were twice as much of their opponents.

Lions Hustle to End BVAL, Try for NCS

Playing tough in league competition, the Varsity boys' volleyball team earned the grudging respect of the other members of the BVAL.

The Lions faced more teams in the expanded BVAL and the level of play was strong and uniform throughout the league. This kept our guys hustling for every victory and many matches went to the fifth set before the final outcome could be determined. Several close matches were swayed by the officiating calls that seemed to go against the Lions with frequent repetition.

Ending the season in the top part of the league standings, the team petitioned the NCS on the Sunday after the regular matches were over for an at-large berth to continue play after the BVAL ended normal competition.

Though Kevin Allen transferred to Freedom High School to teach, he continued to coach the Varsity boys.

Varsity Squad Shines in Camp Competitions

Led by captains Amy Sundstrom, Katie Singh, Jill Bacciocco, and Kim Blair, the Varsity Cheerleaders took second place at the Great America Competition, second place at the Concord Competition, and first place at the UCA Northern California Regional Competition in Roseville. They qualified for the Nationals in Los Angeles and Santa Barbara but illness and injury prevented them from competing.

The jvs took fourth place at the Santa Cruz Competition while the frosh had a solid team and a building year.

Setting a trend, the Rally Squad hosted a Fashion Show on April 19 with fashions donated by Jessica McKlintock of San Francisco. Earlier in the year, the squad had held a highly successful Cheer Clinic in February and raised over $1400.

The squad started off the year with an exceptional performance at the U.C. Cheer Camp. The Varsity Showcheer took home three trophies, a plaque, a spirit stick, and an overall Superior rating (highest available). The Varsity squad received the title of "Camp Champs" in placing first place in the Cheer divisions and second place in the Sideline division. The Rally Squad is advised by Sandy Overly.

XOX

Theresa is somewhat of a maverick
 Not the usual second child
 She's a woman who's making history
 By quiet resolve she rarely gets inked

The year she appeared the Yanks won the Series
 And the Cowboys won the show
 Why a fan of these teams these are theories
 Of which Theresa was the only one to poll

Theresa has always done the best that she could
 No matter how hard the deed
 She gives of herself as a good friend would
 To any friend or acquaintance with need

There's no pendant or trophy to honor all she's done
 Just eighteen years of memories gilded every one
 Theresa has set her course to do the best she can
 As parents we couldn't ask for a better plan

As a child I gave Theresa a nickname -- I red
 I said, "She's the son I never had"
 We got a beautiful daughter instead
 And we're infinitely proud to be her mom and dad

FUKIS

We want to dedicate this book to the wonderful world of Fuki, also known as the "quaun". The creation of Fukis has led us to a new understanding of ourselves, and each other. We also want to thank garlic, and it's lasting effect. The origin of Fukis is due to all who have been introduced. This classified information has only been released to the true friends of Area22. As Fukis brought us closer together, garlic became an evident part of our happiness. Since garlic our lives have been nothing short of a FRENZY. Our friendship originated within the walls of Area22, swinging from the bathroom doors, and our favorite tree, and standing in the bathtub with wet socks. We are dedicated to all the D.I.T.'s, dogs, and everyone else who don't really have a clue what's going on. And we thank the "Dog"father who brought us together. We also want you to know that it's "never been better" thanks to the "Dog"father's Sammy, for being our mascot. Say it loud, say it proud.. "FUKIS!" --Jo and Em '97

Way To Go John!

We are proud of the person you have become.

Congratulations
FOSSI

Love Mom, Dad,
 Jamie & Janelle

Pages Close 'A Lion's Point of View'

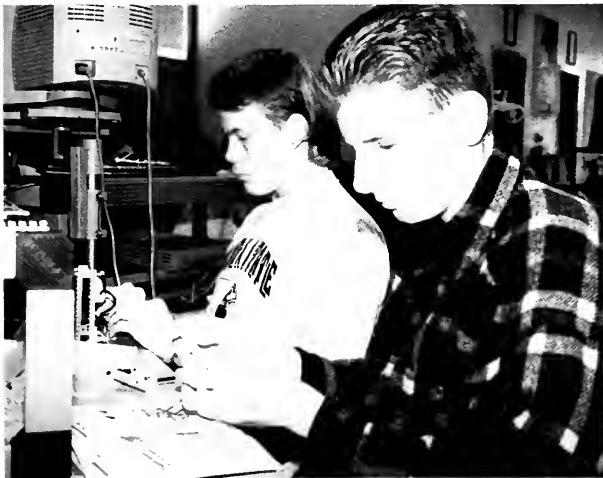

Concluding the largest "senior ad" section yet, the closing is the beginning of the end. The following pages are our best efforts to tie up the loose ends of a year's worth of memories.

This section is built upon the activities we, as Liberty Lions, have based our days upon. The pictures in which we have singled out show a vast array of smiles, laughs, and those special quiet moments we each treasure.

The closing is the last chance where we can see the world through a Lion's eyes and clearly see a Lion's Point of View. Each of the pictures show a different perspective, a perspective in which we (as Lions) interpret one way, letting this view represent the Lion pride of Liberty High School. It also shows the perspective of how each of us individually perceive the world in which we live.

Thank Goodness It's Over

As the '96-'97 school year comes to a screeching halt, Liberty students all realize that never again will the halls, people, and spirit of Liberty ever again pulsate in the same patterns.

Seniors realized their final high school days were over. Never again would they have to take another high school proficiency test or worry about getting caught cutting. They are looking forward to their future, whether it is college, the military, or work, that will mold their post-high school years.

Along with the change of the Class of '97, the Class of '98, who patiently awaited the infamous title "Seniors" for their days to reign as Seniors. Sophomores were looking to their destiny of finally becoming upperclassmen, and freshmen were excited with the idea that soon they would no longer be freshmen.

Time passes quickly, and the students change quietly with it. As the end nears, the Lion's Point of View that we, all as students and staff have experienced in this '96-'97 year ended with the pages of this book. Never again will there be another year such as this. Never again will the students of '97 be completely together, again to recreate a Lion's Point of View. As time passes, people and their perspective on life will change, but the ideas, people, smiles, styles, and beliefs will be forever preserved within the pages of a Lion's Point of View.
